A high school graduate can expect, on average, to make 1/3 more per year than a person who drops out of school.

You have a right to your education and getting your diploma or GED is important!

It will help you ...
• get a better job
• help you and your family be more independent
• be a role model for your children

Do you have plans for after you graduate?

Do you have plans for after you graduate?
The Aurora Public Schools Young Parent Support Program is available to any pregnant and/or parenting student (male or female) attending an APS school.

If you live in the APS area, are under the age of 21 and have not finished high school or obtained a GED, YPSP is able to help you enroll into an educational program that fits your needs.

Who we help

The Social Worker can...
• Act as a first step in mental health counseling
• Support you in connecting with county and public resources
• Assess your mental health needs on a one-on-one basis and provide individualized support
• Make referrals to district and community mental health supports

Young Parent Advocates can...
• Support you with school enrollment, engagement and collaborate with school staff to promote academic success
• Help you plan for post-secondary options
• Assist you in accessing Early Childhood Education for your child
• Make referrals and connect you with school and community resources

The Program Nurse can...
• Collaborate with your school nurse and community health care providers
• Make sure you and your child's health care needs are being met
• Provide education about healthy choices for you and your child
• Connect you with great parenting educational resources

Who we are

The Young Parent Support Program is a free, voluntary program that can help you be successful in school and help you to find high quality childcare.

Being a teen parent can be challenging and we believe parenting students can also be great students!
